1. Introduction

1.1 Introduction to the AYE

- 1.1.1 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council was established in October 2001 to protect people who use social care services and to raise standards in social care training and practice. The Northern Ireland Social Care Council achieves this by promoting workforce development and by registering and regulating the social care workforce. This responsibility extends to ensuring that standards are met and that social workers at each stage in their career are equipped with the appropriate knowledge, skills and values to enable them to meet the needs of service users.
- 1.1.2 The reform of social work education in 2004 incorporated the introduction of the Degree in Social Work (DSW). It also included all newly qualified social workers (NQSWs) undertaking an assessed year in employment (AYE), linked to registration with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council.
- 1.1.3 Government policy (Circular HSS (SSI) AYE 1/2005) required that from 1 April 2006 all NQSWs must successfully complete the AYE in compliance with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (Registration) Rules 2004: Part II 7¹. The Circular has been revised and should be read alongside this guidance (Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015) (Appendix 2).
- 1.1.4 The policy aims to benefit:
 - 1. The Public by ensuring that social work graduates are safe to practise and are competent, responsible practitioners
 - 2. Employers by ensuring they are satisfied with the competence levels of newly qualified social workers in terms of fitness to practise
 - 3. The Registrant by ensuring NQSWs receive appropriate induction, professional supervision and support to enable them to demonstrate sustained effective competence in the workplace linked to continuing registration requirements
- 1.1.5 Northern Ireland is the only part of the United Kingdom where an AYE is linked to registration. NQSWs are registered with a condition of successful completion of the AYE. The Northern Ireland Social Care Council has a responsibility to monitor adherence to AYE standards, as included in Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015. It is recognised that confidence in practice and decision making grows with employment; the AYE gives the NQSW time for reflection and support to consolidate learning from the Degree in Social Work.

¹ These Rules have been updated. The most recent version can be found on the Northern Ireland Social Care Council website: www.niscc.info

1.2 Purpose of this Revised Guidance

- 1.2.1 The AYE has been in operation since 2006. The Northern Ireland Social Care Council issued Guidance for Employers and AYE registrants in 2005 which was revised in 2010 and 2014. Annual monitoring by the Health and Social Care Board (HSC) and the Northern Ireland Social Care Council indicates that the AYE is broadly achieving its aim of improving support to NQSWs entering employment.
- 1.2.2 Current challenges for AYE registrants include securing social work posts with many available posts only offering short term contracts. Other challenges include ensuring clarity, rigour and consistency of the AYE across all sectors.
- 1.2.3 This revised guidance is intended to address issues which employers and AYE registrants reported to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council through a series of focus groups and interviews held during 2013.
- 1.2.4 The AYE registrants who commence the AYE from June 2014 will complete and submit registration and Certificate of Completion documentation via email to registration@nisc.hscni.net

2. Responsibilities for the AYE

Within the arrangements for the AYE there are responsibilities for the AYE registrant, the employer, the Northern Ireland Social Care Council, the Regulation Quality Improvement Authority (RQIA), and the Health and Social Care Board (HSC).

2.1 Responsibilities of AYE Registrants

2.1.1 When social work students complete the Degree in Social Work, their registration with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council is ended. NQSWs must:

- Apply to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council for registration on the part of the Register reserved for social workers. Registration as an AYE is with the condition that the AYE is completed successfully. AYE's must notify the Northern Ireland Social Care Council of any change of circumstances, including change of employer or contact details
- Obtain employment in an agency that can provide practice that will offer consolidation and development in the six key social work roles/National Occupational Standards for Social Work 2011 (Appendix 3) and support for the AYE
- Comply with and uphold the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards of Conduct and Practice for Social Workers, 2015.
- Give the employer a copy of the Summary of Learning (Appendix 1) so that the Personal Development Plan and learning in employment can link to learning as a student. The Summary of Learning should be completed during the final term of the Degree in Social Work
- Take responsibility for maintaining and improving knowledge and skills and recording professional development activities. This includes the Northern Ireland Social Care Council standard of completing at least ten training and development days. A record and analysis of learning from these days must be retained
- Provide evidence to the employer to demonstrate development, consolidation and competence in each of the six key social work roles. This must include evidence of:
 1. An assessment, including the assessment of harm or abuse and a related work plan
 2. A risk assessment and management plan
 3. The application and evaluation of a minimum of two methods and/or models of social work intervention to promote change

- Complete two reflective summaries (minimum of 750 words each) for the midpoint appraisal and the final appraisal point. These must demonstrate evidence of reflection, analysis and evaluation during the AYE and must be linked to the six key roles
- Be accountable for the quality of their work and meet relevant standards of practice
- Provide the information required by the Northern Ireland Social Care Council if called for audit, more information is included at 4.4 Audit of Assessed Year in Employment
- Return the signed and endorsed Certificate of Completion of AYE confirming successful completion of the AYE (Form AYE 1) or apply for an extension. Once the AYE is completed, registration is with condition that a minimum of two requirements in the Professional in Practice Framework are obtained within the next three years.

It is the registrant's responsibility to ensure the proforma is returned to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council. Failure to do so may lead to removal from the Register.

2.1.2 What Registrants Should Expect from their Employer during the AYE

- Allocation of work that will enable them to engage in the full range of professional social work activity expected of a practising social worker. Work allocation should allow for the consolidation and extension of the skills and knowledge gained on the Degree in Social Work
- A formal induction programme that meets the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards of Conduct and Practice for Employers.
- A Personal Development Plan, informed by the Summary of Learning
- Information from the employer about the standards of practice they are expected to meet and how their performance will be appraised
- Opportunities to meet the Northern Ireland Social Care Council's standard of at least ten training and development days
- Access to professional supervision, support and appraisal from a professional supervisor, fortnightly for the first six months and monthly thereafter
- A midpoint appraisal of progress at no later than six months
- A final appraisal at no later than 11 months and if competent, a sign-off of the Certificate of Completion

2.2 Responsibilities of Employers

- 2.2.1 The responsibilities of employers are set out in the DHSSPS Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015. Employers have responsibility for ensuring the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Minimum Standards for completion of the AYE (page 11) of the guidance are met. Read the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards of Conduct and Practice For Employers at <https://niscc.info/storage/resources/standards-of-conduct-and-practice-for-employers-1.pdf>
- 2.2.2 It is the employer's responsibility to assess if the AYE registrant has successfully completed the AYE. The employer should, therefore, have systems in place to assess practice against the six key social work roles²/National Occupational Standards for Social Work 2011. It is in the employer's interest to appoint AYE registrants to posts where such assessment is possible.

Change of employer within the AYE

- 2.2.3 AYE registrants may change employer, within the timescale of the AYE. It is the responsibility of employers to provide staff with a reference. This must include sufficient information to assist the new employer to assess the development required for the new employee to successfully complete the AYE.
- 2.2.4 Employers must use the Attachment to Reference to supplement a reference (Form AYE 4). This form should also be used when an AYE registrant changes post within an organisation.
- 2.2.5 The AYE policy applies to all NQSWs who have been employed as a social worker for less than a calendar year, regardless of where they graduated or have been employed. Employers must take account of the AYE registrants experience to date along with the development needs of all new employees required to undertake the AYE.

Newly Qualified Social Workers who Practise Outside of Northern Ireland

- 2.2.6 If a NQSW is employed in a social work post outside Northern Ireland for a calendar year and that employer confirms competence in practice they do not have to undertake the AYE if they return to work in Northern Ireland. The employer must complete Undertaking AYE Practice Outside Northern Ireland

² The six key social work roles are as follows:

1. Maintain professional accountability
2. Practice professional social work
3. Promote engagement and participation
4. Assess needs, risks and circumstances
5. Plan for person centred outcomes
6. Take actions to achieve change

(Form AYE 6) and the registrant must return this to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council.

If a NQSW has been employed for less than a year and plans to work in Northern Ireland they should ask their employer to complete the Attachment to Reference form (Form AYE 4) and then share this with their new employer. When they commence a post that is suitable to undertake the AYE the employer will assess competence to date and may confirm part completion of the year. This is at the employer's discretion.

Confirmation of competence

- 2.2.7 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council Certificate of Completion of AYE (Form AYE 1) can be used to confirm successful completion of the AYE. The employer confirms that the Northern Ireland Social Care Council AYE Standards have been met.

This form must be signed by the following:

- The line manager
- A registered social worker where the line manager is not a registered social worker
- The registrant
- The designated signatory of the AYE registrants current employer

The signatory must be a senior manager who understands the standards an AYE registrant is expected to meet and can satisfy him / herself that the standards have been met.

Once the AYE is completed, registration is with condition that a minimum of two requirements in the Professional in Practice Framework are obtained within the next three years.

- 2.2.8 It is the AYE registrant's responsibility to ensure the form is returned to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council.

2.3 Responsibilities of the Northern Ireland Social Care Council

- 2.3.1 The role of the Northern Ireland Social Care Council is to ensure that all those admitted to the social care register are fit and competent to be on the Register, and that they meet the requirements to maintain registration. NQSWs are placed on the social work part of the Register with a condition of successful completion of the AYE. This condition is effective for a calendar year (minimum) and allows for an extension under specified circumstances.

- 2.3.2 The AYE is to ensure that AYE registrants have made the transition from student to employee and have demonstrated sustained, continuous, effective competence in the workplace. The Northern Ireland Social Care Council needs to be satisfied that at the end of the year the registrant is safe to practise and is a competent and responsible practitioner.

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will not remove the AYE condition on a registrant who is subject to a fitness to practise investigation until the fitness to practise issue has been resolved and the Northern Ireland Social Care Council is satisfied that the AYE condition has been met.

- 2.3.3 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council undertakes annual monitoring of AYE arrangements in the voluntary, independent, education and justice sectors to reflect the annual monitoring undertaken by the HSC. This ensures compliance with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council standards, findings are used to recommend improvements in the arrangements and to promote regional consistency.
- 2.3.4 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council needs to satisfy itself regarding the suitability of the AYE registrant for registration as a social worker without condition, in accordance with the DHSSPS Circular. To ensure this, the Northern Ireland Social Care Council is introducing an annual audit of AYE registrants. Information is included at 4.4 Audit of AYE.

2.4 Responsibilities of the RQIA

- 2.4.1 The RQIA will, as appropriate, monitor compliance of the employer responsibilities for implementing the AYE Standards, through inspection and service regulation.

2.5 Responsibilities of the HSC

- 2.5.1 Annual monitoring of AYE arrangements is conducted by the HSC based on the HSC Trust annual reports to ensure compliance with the DHSSPS Circular and standards; to recommend improvements in arrangements and to promote regional consistency across HSC Trusts.

3. Minimum Requirements for a Suitable Post for an AYE Registrant

3.1 Introduction

- 3.1.1 NQSWs are finding it more challenging to secure a social work post and are applying for a wide range of posts in social care. They are also applying for posts in integrated teams which are open to a range of professionals as well as social workers.

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council is increasingly being asked to assess if posts are suitable for an NQSW to complete the AYE. The Northern Ireland Social Care Council has reviewed the requirements to assist employers and NQSWs to assess the suitability of posts.

3.1 Policy

- 3.2.1 One of the aims of the AYE is to support AYE registrants in the workplace to develop the knowledge and skills gained on the DSW. At the end of the year they should have demonstrated that they are safe, competent and effective in social work practice.

- 3.2.2 Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015 stipulates the following requirements for AYE registrants in their assessed year:

- All appointments must be to posts which require a social work qualification and which meet the requirements for a suitable post as specified in the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Guidance.
- Professional supervision must be available from a qualified social worker and in line with agreed Departmental Policy
- Allocation of work will need to allow newly qualified social workers to engage in the full range of professional social work activity expected of a practising social worker. Allocation of work should allow for the consolidation and extension of the professional skills and knowledge gained on the Degree in Social Work

3.3 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council Minimum Requirements

- 3.3.1 (1) The qualification requirements for the post must include a social work qualification. As a minimum requirement this must be stipulated in the desirable criteria for the post
- (2) There must be professional supervision by a qualified social worker, at least fortnightly for the first six months and thereafter at least monthly
- (3) There must be scope within the post for an AYE registrant to practise the six key social work roles and to consolidate and extend the professional skills and knowledge gained on the Degree in Social Work
- (4) The post must be sufficiently challenging so that the AYE registrant can demonstrate by the end of the year that they are able to practise safely, competently and responsibly as a social worker
- (5) It is the employers responsibility to audit any post they believe may be suitable for an AYE registrant to undertake the AYE and ensure it meets 1-4

- 3.3.2 If a post meets criteria one and two but the duties are narrowly defined the Northern Ireland Social Care Council expect an employer to consider whether additional experience is necessary so that requirements three and four can be met.

For example:

An organisation that provides support to people experiencing mental ill health advertises the post of Project Worker. The job specification includes a range of qualifications from QCF 3 to a professional qualification in social work or nursing. The duties of the post are, broadly, to assist the service user and provide practical support.

This post would only be suitable for an AYE registrant if the duties can be extended to include practice in the six key social work roles and allow for increasing responsibility and independence as a social worker.

3.3.3 Temporary staff, bank staff, agency staff

Some AYE registrants are undertaking short term contracts. In order to demonstrate consolidation and extension of their professional skills and knowledge, the AYE registrant must engage in sustained direct work with service users. This should be assessed by the employer as to whether the quality of the work experience is sufficient to contribute to the AYE

At the end of the period of employment the professional supervisor must complete Attachment to Reference for Staff Changing Employment (Form AYE 4). The AYE registrant must give this to their next employer. This will enable the new employer to work with the AYE registrant to identify development needs and to enable them to build on practice experience. Temporary and agency staff may need to apply for an extension to the AYE if their first year in employment includes short placements or periods of unemployment. They must meet the requirement of a calendar year (minimum) of assessed practice. Bank work cannot contribute to the AYE as it does not enable sustained practice with service users.

- 3.3.4 If an employer is uncertain about the suitability of a post, having considered the minimum requirements stated above they should seek advice from the Northern Ireland Social Care Council.

4. Minimum Standards for Completion of the AYE

4.1 Introduction

- 4.1.1 AYE registrants work in a range of social work settings and to ensure there is clarity, rigour and consistency in their experience the Northern Ireland Social Care Council has set minimum standards for the AYE.
- 4.1.2 These Standards apply to the AYE registrant regardless of where and in which sector, the AYE registrant is working. There is further information on the operation of the Standards in Section 5 – AYE Performance Appraisal.

4.2 Standards

Standard 1

The AYE registrant must have a Personal Development Plan (PDP) which builds on the Summary of Learning completed towards the end of the Degree in Social Work. Opportunities should be made available to meet development needs. A sample Summary of Learning form is attached (Appendix 1).

Standard 2

The AYE registrant must undertake induction to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards of Conduct and Practice For Employers. There should also be induction to the AYE, including information on the employer's systems for support and assessment.

Standard 3

The AYE registrant must have a supervision plan or contract and must have professional supervision at least every two weeks during the first six months and thereafter at least monthly if satisfactory progress is confirmed at the midpoint appraisal (see Standard 5 on midpoint appraisal).³ Supervision must be recorded and should be undertaken in formal, planned, one-to-one sessions conducted by a registered social worker with appropriate experience. One-to-one supervision may be supported by mentoring, peer support and group supervision.

Standard 4

The AYE Registrant must undertake at least ten training and development days⁴ as part of the condition of their registration. These days must be recorded and an analysis of learning attached.

³ The frequencies stipulated in this standard assume staff are in full-time employment. There may need to be adjustment where staff are employed part-time.

⁴ Training and development days are time spent on induction, training or other work related development activities such as reading, research, AYE support and development groups. The activities should relate to the PDP. The 10 training and development days can be broken down into the equivalent hours (75 hours) and applied as appropriate to the development activity.

Standard 5

There must be a midpoint appraisal at no later than six months. A reflective summary which includes reflection, analysis and evaluation on the progress of practice in the six key social work roles (minimum of 750 words) must be submitted to the supervisor by the AYE registrant in advance of the appraisal. Feedback must be given by the supervisor. There should be agreement at this stage as to whether the frequency of supervision should be reduced, taking account of the confidence and competence of the AYE registrant and the complexity of the workload.

Standard 6

There must be a final appraisal for the AYE year at no later than eleven months. A further reflective summary of overall reflection, analysis and evaluation of the six key social work roles must be submitted to the supervisor by the AYE registrant (minimum of 750 words) in advance of the appraisal. Feedback must be given by the supervisor. At this stage a decision should be reached on whether the AYE registrant is fit to practise as a safe, competent and effective social worker. If the employer believes the registrant requires further experience to ratify this decision an extension should be requested from the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (Form AYE 2). As increasing numbers of registrants are undertaking a range of short term contracts, requests for extensions have increased. An employer may require the AYE registrant to work for an additional period of time to ensure that a robust decision regarding competence can be confirmed.

4.3 Monitoring of the Standards

- 4.3.1 Employers will be asked to assure the Northern Ireland Social Care Council that these Standards have been met when they sign off the Certificate of Completion.
- 4.3.2 HSC Trusts should include information on their monitoring of the Standards in their annual AYE review report to the HSCB.
- 4.3.3 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will monitor adherence to the Standards in the justice, education, voluntary and independent sectors.
- 4.3.4 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will annually undertake an audit of AYE registrants across all employers to ensure Standards are rigorous and consistent across all sectors.

4.4 Audit of Assessed Year in Employment

- 4.4.1 Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015 – Assessed Year in Employment (AYE) of Newly Qualified Social Workers (NQSW): Implementation of the AYE Policy from 9 November 2015

The circular states:

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will wish to satisfy itself of the quality of NQSW evidence used by employers to assess successful completion of the AYE and to verify the suitability of the AYE for registration status.....this will be carried out by audit of a sample of AYE submissions

An annual audit will be introduced by the Northern Ireland Social Care Council from 2016 to ensure the AYE registrant's process and assessment during the AYE is rigorous and consistent across all sectors. The AYE will, if selected for audit, submit information as listed below at 4.4.4. The audit will indicate strengths and development areas in the AYE which will be identified in key themes and will be circulated to employers supporting AYE registrants. This will not detract from the employer's responsibility to assess whether the AYE registrant has successfully completed the AYE.

An annual monitoring of AYE arrangements is conducted by the Health and Social Care Board to ensure compliance with the above Circular and associated standards, this is used to recommend improvements and to promote regional consistency.

A similar annual monitoring process is undertaken by the Northern Ireland Social Care Council with an annual monitoring review of AYE in education, justice, the voluntary and the private sectors.

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council audit will complement existing annual monitoring and work towards ensuring rigour and consistency across all sectors.

4.4.2 The Audit Process

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will undertake an annual audit of the Assessed Year in Employment from 2016. The audit will assess the AYE's submission against The Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards for the AYE.

4.4.3 How the Northern Ireland Social Care Council will select for audit

In April each year the Northern Ireland Social Care Council will select a sample of AYE registrants for audit who are coming to the end of their AYE. They will be selected from all employment sectors.

4.4.4 AYE submission for audit

AYE registrants who have been selected for audit will be informed 3 months in advance of the submission date.

AYE registrants chosen for audit can download an audit submission form to complete from the AYE section on the Northern Ireland Social Care Council portal.

The audit submission must include the following:

1. Summary of work role (maximum 250 words). This should describe the AYE registrants current work role. If the AYE registrant has held more than one post they should briefly outline the roles they have held.
2. A copy of the Personal Development Plan (PDP). This should have been completed during the first month of the AYE and have been updated, as required. It should identify learning and development needs and a plan to meet these.
3. A summary of the training and development days, with brief analysis of learning, that have been undertaken during the AYE. A minimum of ten training and development days must have been completed during the AYE.
4. A copy of the two reflective summaries that were submitted to the professional supervisor at the mid and final appraisal points. These must be a minimum of 750 words each.
5. Through self-audit confirm that during the AYE the AYE registrant has:
 - (i) Provided the employer with a Summary of Learning
 - (ii) Completed an induction to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards
 - (iii) Provided the employer/s with evidence that enabled them to assess whether the AYE registrant met each of the six social work key roles

4.4.5 Deferral Due to Exceptional Circumstances

As AYE registrants are placed on the social work part of the register with a condition of completion of the AYE, it is essential that all AYE registrants ensure they are meeting the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards for Completion of the AYE. If there are exceptional circumstances which are beyond the AYE Registrants control that prevent them from submitting the requirements for audit, the Northern Ireland Social Care Council can consider requests for deferral in accordance with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Rules of March 2011:

Rule 8 (6) The Council shall not refer a registrant to the Registration Committee in accordance with rule 8 (5) where that registrant has failed to complete the post registration training and learning requirements due to exceptional circumstances or where the registrant is on maternity, adoption or fostering leave.

If the AYE registrant is unable to submit the AYE audit due to exceptional circumstances they must inform the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Registration team, in writing, at least twenty days before the date required.

4.4.6 Assessment of Audit

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council assessors will assess the audit submissions against the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Minimum Standards for Completion of the AYE. The assessors are social workers who have detailed knowledge of the AYE. The audit submissions will be given a reference number and the identity of the registrant will not be disclosed to the assessor. If all the work required has not been submitted, the Northern Ireland Social Care Council may request further information to be submitted within twenty days.

4.4.7 Outcome of Audit

The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will confirm with the AYE registrant that they have received and reviewed the submission. The employer will only be contacted if the assessor identifies issues of risk or governance that need to be raised with them. The AYE registrant will be informed if this is to happen.

Key themes and learning from all the submissions for this audit point will be available on the AYE section of the Northern Ireland Social Care Council portal and circulated to employers of AYE registrants. AYE individuals will not be identifiable. This will contribute to continued improvement and development of the AYE across all sectors.

5. AYE Performance Appraisal

5.1 Introduction

- 5.1.1 The reviews of the AYE have indicated that there are different methods being used to assess the competence of newly qualified social workers during the AYE.
- 5.1.2 The Northern Ireland Social Care Council is issuing this practice guidance to employers and newly qualified social workers so there is a clear understanding of what is required to deem an AYE registrant as competent.

5.2 AYE Policy Requirements

- 5.2.1 The Departmental Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015 (Appendix 2) states:
- Employers must be satisfied that new social work graduate entrants are performing at a level that allows for confirmation that they are able to practise as safe, competent and responsible social workers and therefore suitable for continued registration and employment as social workers.
 - Final Performance Appraisal for AYE purposes must take place and the outcomes recorded on the relevant Northern Ireland Social Care Council proforma to facilitate the registration process. Where the line manager conducting the performance appraisal is not a qualified social worker, the final performance appraisal must be signed off by the AYE supervisor in agreement with the line manager and the authorised signatory from the organisation.

5.3 Guidance on AYE Appraisal

- 5.3.1 The AYE registrant has demonstrated sufficient competence on the Degree in Social Work to attain a social work qualification. The assessment methods used during the AYE should be proportionate and reflect good supervision practice of an AYE registrant. In most instances, observations of practice will not be required unless this is normal practice for supervision by that employer or is naturally occurring such as when an AYE registrant and manager are both present at a review.
- 5.3.2 Employers may wish to develop a framework and their own documentation for assessing competence. It must contain information on the six key social work roles on which the AYE registrant will be appraised.

- 5.3.3 AYE registrants must bring a Summary of Learning to the employer. This should be the starting point for a Personal Development Plan (PDP) for the AYE period.
- 5.3.4 AYE registrants must record training and development days and reflect on learning from these.
- 5.3.5 AYE registrants must provide evidence for the professional supervisor of how they are consolidating and extending skills and knowledge gained on the Degree in Social Work. This should reflect the six key social work roles. The evidence must include: an assessment, including an assessment of harm and abuse and a related work plan, a risk assessment and risk management plan and the application of at least two methods and/or models of social work intervention to promote change. The emphasis should be on naturally occurring evidence generated as a result of the AYE registrants' day-to day practice.
- 5.3.6 Professional supervisors must record, on a regular basis how the AYE registrant is performing in relation to the six key social work roles. Employers may develop a proforma for this purpose or the professional supervisor may include comment within the supervision records. It is the responsibility of the AYE registrant to demonstrate their competence in daily practice, through agency records, discussion in supervision and in the reflective summaries that they submit to the professional supervisor at the mid and final appraisal points.
- 5.3.7 The mid-point appraisal is a crucial time for identifying progress and development issues. The PDP should be reviewed and plans made to address any gaps in practice experience and/or training needs. The AYE registrant must submit a reflective summary of their progress in relation to the six key social work roles and an outline of future development needs to the supervisor in advance of the appraisal (minimum of 750 words). There must also be discussion at this stage about whether the frequency of supervision should be reduced, taking account of the confidence and competence of the AYE registrant and the complexity of the workload.
- 5.3.8 At the final appraisal stage the AYE registrant must submit a final reflective summary linked to the six key social work roles and identification of future learning (minimum 750 words) to the supervisor. Following successful completion of the AYE social workers will have a further condition placed on their registration requiring them to complete a minimum of two requirements in the Consolidation Award, Professional in Practice (PiP) by the time of their first three year renewal. This is an opportunity to discuss PiP, the professional development framework for social workers which governs the Practice Requirements for Training and Learning (PRTL) and review options of how the AYE registrant can work toward attainment of two requirements in the next three years.

5.4 Summary of Key Steps in Performance Appraisal

5.4.1 The following procedures are the minimum for each AYE registrant:

TASK	TIMESCALE
1. AYE registrant to bring a Summary of Learning from the Degree in Social Work	To the first supervision session
2. A Personal Development Plan (PDP) to be developed by the AYE registrant and the professional supervisor.	By end of the first month
3. An induction undertaken to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council Standards of Conduct and Practice for Employers.	By the end of the sixth month
4. On-going supervision recording progress over the six social work key roles. A record must also be kept of the AYE's training and development days. There should be discussion of the frequency of supervision required after the first six months.	Supervision fortnightly for the first six months and at least monthly for the remainder of the AYE
5. Evidence – the AYE registrant must compile evidence which demonstrates consolidation and development in each of the six key social work roles. This must include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. An assessment including the assessment of harm or abuse and a work plan 2. A risk assessment and management plan 3. The application and evaluation of at least two methods and/or models of social work intervention to promote change 4. A record and analysis of all training and development days 	Evidence should be reviewed regularly in supervision. Further work required should be identified. Decisions should be reached and recorded as to whether the AYE registrant is competent in each of the six key social work roles.
6. Midpoint appraisal. There must be an assessment of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The AYE registrant's reflection on their practice in relation to the six key social work roles. Prior to the meeting, the registrant must submit a reflective summary of progress in relation to the six key social work roles and an outline of future development during the next six months (minimum of 750 words). Feedback must be provided by the supervisor. The outcomes of the discussion should be recorded in the supervision 	At approximately six months

record <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The PDP should be reviewed and updated. This must include any identified gaps and areas for development, future learning and supervision needs. This should incorporate information on training and development days.
7. Final appraisal. Prior to this appraisal the AYE registrant must submit a further reflective summary which reviews overall progress and achievement in meeting the six key social work roles and identifies future learning needs (minimum of 750 words) to the supervisor. Feedback must be provided by the supervisor. There should be a discussion related to Professional in Practice and the options available to the AYE registrant to work towards attainment of requirements in the Consolidation Award. At this final appraisal the AYE registrant will be either confirmed as having met the Northern Ireland Social Care Council requirements for completion of the AYE or that an extension is required. If the AYE is successfully completed Form AYE1 must be signed by the employer and returned to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council by the AYE registrant at least ten days before the end of the AYE condition.	No later than 11 months

6. Completion, Extension and Non-Completion of the AYE

6.1 Completion of the AYE

- 6.1.1 When the AYE registrant returns Form AYE1 the Northern Ireland Social Care Council will remove the condition of the AYE and will renew registration for a further three years. Renewal of registration is with a condition that a minimum of two requirements of the Consolidation Award, Professional in Practice are achieved by the next renewal date. If the AYE registrant fails to provide notification of the satisfactory completion of the AYE or a request for an extension, by the due date, the Northern Ireland Social Care Council shall remove the registrant's entry from the social work part of the Register.

6.2 Extension of the AYE

- 6.2.1. The Northern Ireland Social Care Council will consider an application from an AYE registrant for an extension to the AYE where:

1. The number of working days specified in the DHSSPS Circular have not been met for justifiable reasons including part-time working; or
2. Due to a number of short term contracts the employer requires additional time to ensure a robust decision on competence can be reached; or
3. There are personal or health reasons, including maternity, adoption or fostering leave for an extension; or
4. The AYE registrant is the subject of a conduct investigation (see paragraph 2.3.2)

Any application for an extension under these circumstances should be accompanied by an employer endorsement Application for an Extension to AYE (Form AYE 2)

- 6.2.2 Where an AYE registrant has been unable to demonstrate the required level of competence for other reasons, an extension may be requested. This must be accompanied by an employer endorsement and a report from the line manager or, where necessary, the supervisor, outlining the gaps in competence and a time bound plan to achieve the necessary competence. Application for an Extension to the AYE (Forms AYE2 & AYE3). The employer can, if needed, request further evidence from the AYE registrant.

More than one extension is acceptable, if it is believed an additional period of work experience would enable the AYE registrant to make progress. When a decision is reached that the AYE registrant has not completed the AYE, non-completion procedures should be followed.

6.3 Non Completion of the AYE

6.3.1 Where an AYE registrant has not completed the AYE, the employer must submit a report to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council. The report must include:

1. The supports that were offered to the AYE registrant
2. Extensions approved, if any
3. A list of the training and development days, along with analysis, completed
4. A list of the evidence provided by the AYE registrant along with progress and decisions reached regarding competence for each of the six key social work roles
5. The two reflective summaries completed by the registrant at the six and eleven month appraisal points (if completed)
6. Any additional reports the employer or registrant may believe will be helpful such as an inappropriate conduct report or concerns regarding practice

The report must be signed by the employer and the registrant.

6.3.2 Following receipt of the report, the registrant may be referred to the Registration Committee for a decision on future action.

6.3.3 If the registrant wishes to repeat the AYE, possibly with a different employer, the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (Registration) Rules 11 and 12 will apply. This will enable the registrant to apply for restoration to the register.

5. Revised Proformas 2014

Please note that all proformas are available at www.niscc.info

The Certificate of Completion must be completed and forwarded to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council via email to registration@niscc.hscni.net.

The other proformas should be completed and printed/emailed for signatures. If a copy is required by the Northern Ireland Social Care Council, for example the Attachment to Reference Form this will need to be returned to the Northern Ireland Social Care Council to registration@niscc.hscni.net.

Circular HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015

ASSESSED¹ YEAR² IN EMPLOYMENT (AYE) OF NEWLY QUALIFIED SOCIAL WORKERS (NQSW)³: IMPLEMENTATION OF THE AYE POLICY FROM 9 November 2015

INTRODUCTION

1. The Degree in Social Work was introduced as the threshold qualification for Social Work in Northern Ireland in September 2004. This was part of an overall package of agreed reforms which also included the AYE, whereby all NQSWs are required to undertake an assessed year in employment, in a social work post. The AYE is a condition of registration for NQSWs with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (NISCC).
2. The AYE is designed to support the NQSW make the transition from being a social work student to a practising social worker and to develop and strengthen their professional confidence and competence. The NQSW employee will be expected to have achieved a level of competence, decision-making and autonomy within employment by the end of their first year in practice consistent with the standards for a qualified social worker and as outlined by the Revised Guidance for Registrants and their Employers NISCC Guidance (May 2014).
3. The NQSW will be subject to the same employment processes and procedures as any other employee, permanent or temporary, within the employing organisation.

POLICY

4. The policy on AYE for NQSWs in employment was first introduced in April 2006 (Circular: HSS (SSI) AYE 1/2005) and was replaced by Circular: HSS (OSS) AYE 3/2010. Circular: HSS (OSS) AYE 3/2010 is now replaced by this Circular: HSS (OSS) AYE 2/2015.

¹ Assessed = The term "assessed" in this context refers to the performance appraisal process within the employing organisation, which is undertaken throughout the prescribed AYE period for the NQSW.

² Year = In this context, each NQSW should complete 198 working days (7.5 hours = 1 working day) in social work practice. This equates to a full calendar year in employment and may be undertaken either as a continuous year or as incremental periods of employment over a longer period, but which allows the NQSW to complete in full the AYE requirements. Annual leave, statutory holiday entitlement and professional development days are not included in the 198 days.

5. All Health and Social Care Trusts (HSC Trusts) will have arrangements in place to support NQSWs comply with the NISCC registration requirements and guidance for the AYE NISCC Guidance (May 2014).

PURPOSE OF THE POLICY

6. The purpose of the policy is:
- (a) to enable NQSWs make the transition from being a student to being a professionally accountable social worker in employment and to develop their knowledge, skills and capacity to function as a registered social worker without condition;
 - (b) to ensure NQSWs receive appropriate induction and professional support, including professional supervision, in their first year in employment;
 - (c) to allow NQSWs opportunities to demonstrate sustained and effective social work practice in the workplace;
 - (d) to require employers to verify, against required standards, that a NQSW can practice in the workplace as a professionally accountable social worker and to endorse their fitness to practise and their eligibility to be registered without the AYE condition with the NISCC; and
 - (e) to provide assurance to the public that by the end of the AYE, NQSWs are safe to practice as competent, responsible and professionally accountable practitioners.

IMPLEMENTATION ARRANGEMENTS

7. Employers' arrangements for the management, support and supervision of NQSWs should be in line with this Circular and current employment processes for all employees joining the HSC workforce. The NISCC Guidance (May 2014) provides guidance on:
- requirements for a suitable social work post for an AYE Registrant;
 - standards that all social work employers must meet to ensure consistency of experience for all NQSWs during their AYE;
 - the assessment of competence against the required standards of practice; and
 - NISCC quality assurance arrangements for ensuring regional standardisation in terms of employer appraisal of NQSW's performance.
8. The NISCC Guidance should be read in conjunction with this Circular. The NISCC Guidance (May 2014) and associated standards will be used to monitor implementation of the policy and the consistency of arrangements across the HSC Trusts.

REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS FOR NEW SOCIAL WORK GRADUATES

9. All NQSWs must register with the NISCC on the social work part of the register prior to employment in a social work post. At all times registration must be current.

RECRUITMENT

10. Employers should advertise social work vacancies in the normal way. Social work graduates and social work students about to complete their Social Work Degree and who meet the requirements of job specifications will be eligible to apply. All such appointments must be to posts which provide the NQSWs the opportunity to be assessed against required standards of social work practice. The requirements for a suitable post are specified in the NISCC Guidance (May 2014). The NQSW should be clearly identified as such in the employing organisation's Human Resources information system in order that individuals can be tracked through to successful completion.

SUPERVISION AND INDUCTION

11. As with all new employees, NQSWs should receive appropriate induction to the organisation. In the course of the AYE, NQSWs should receive the specified professional supervision and support outlined in the NISCC Guidance (May 2014). Professional supervision must be provided by a qualified, registered social worker and in line with agreed Departmental Policy. The NISCC Guidance (May 2014) sets out the minimum requirements for professional supervision and induction.

WORK ALLOCATION

12. Allocation of work will need to allow NQSWs to engage in the full range of professional social work activity expected of a practising social worker. The work allocated should allow the NQSW to consolidate professional skills and knowledge gained on the Degree and extend their knowledge and skills to being able to work more confidently, independently and accountably. These skills and knowledge are reflected in the required standards identified in the NISCC Guidance (May 2014).
13. Work allocation should be sufficiently challenging so that the NQSW can demonstrate, at the end of their AYE, that they are able to practice safely, competently, confidently and responsibly and at an appropriate level of professional independence as would be expected of a social worker within a framework of professional governance and accountability.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

14. All NQSWs should be offered opportunities for professional learning and development and be afforded sufficient time to avail of these. NQSWs must undertake a minimum of 10 post-registration training and learning development days⁴, which are a condition of registration. These learning opportunities should focus on facilitating the ongoing development and expansion of the knowledge and skills base required of a qualified social worker and appropriate to the individual's job role within the employing organisation. The learning acquired over the AYE period should contribute to the NQSW's readiness to achieve recognition within the Professional in Practice Framework⁵.

PERFORMANCE APPRAISAL

15. Employers must be satisfied that NQSWs are performing at a level that allows for confirmation that they are able to practise as safe, competent and responsible social workers and therefore suitable for continued registration and employment as social workers. This is achieved through the assessment and appraisal process which is ongoing throughout the period of employment as an NQSW. The NQSW's line manager, or where the line manager is not a social worker, the social worker who provides professional supervision (AYE supervisor) to the NQSW must assess his/her performance throughout the employment period. This applies to NQSWs in continuous employment as well as to those in shorter periods of employment. Where it relates to shorter periods of employment, the AYE supervisor must provide a written reference and Form Ref AYE4 NISCC Guidance (May 2014) evidencing achievements during each specific period of employment and clearly stating competences which still remain outstanding. Each period of short term employment must aggregate to the equivalent of a full calendar year.
16. The final performance appraisal for AYE purposes must take place and the final overall achievement recorded on the relevant NISCC proforma to facilitate the re-registration process. Where the line manager is not a qualified social worker, the final performance appraisal must be signed off by the AYE supervisor in agreement with the line manager and the authorised signatory from the organisation.
17. If there are concerns about the suitability of a NQSW, this should be addressed with the employee concerned using the normal HR performance management processes and as with any employee, an action plan should be put in place to address deficits in performance. If the NQSW does not show the requisite improvement, organisational HR processes should be followed as they would for any other employee within the organisation.

⁴ Development days are time spent on induction, training or other work related development activities such as shadowing, reading, research, AYE support and development groups. These activities should relate to the individual's PDP.

⁵ Following successful completion of the AYE a condition will be placed in their registration requiring them to complete a minimum of two requirements of the Specific Award in the PiP framework. This must be achieved by the time of their first three year renewal with NISCC.

PAY & CONDITIONS

18. All new NQSWs in HSC Trusts will be placed on the agreed Agenda for Change band for NQSWs. Pay progression will be dependent on a satisfactory outcome of AYE final performance appraisal and registration without the AYE condition on the social work part of the NISCC register. Pay and conditions will remain unchanged for any period of extension of the AYE and associated NISCC registration “with condition” status for the NQSW.

GOVERNANCE AND REGIONAL CONSISTENCY

HSC Trust Employer Responsibilities

19. For standardisation purposes, each Trust will ensure that 25% of performance appraisals of NQSWs being appraised in any reporting year are randomly sampled. Records of this process should be maintained and made available on request
20. Line managers' or AYE supervisors' assessments of NQSWs for performance appraisal purposes are an essential component of the process during this period and should be supported by employers.
21. As part of the quality assurance and monitoring arrangements, Trusts should seek feedback from NQSWs, line managers and professional supervisors as to the experience and effectiveness of AYE arrangements. An overview of this feedback should be included in the HSC Trusts' annual reports on the implementation of the AYE policy to the HSC Board as part of the Delegated Statutory Function (DSF) reporting arrangements and reports should be submitted to the Director of Social Care and Children.

Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) Responsibilities

22. The HSCB should maintain professional oversight and scrutiny of AYE arrangements based on HSC Trust annual reports to:
 - ensure compliance with this Circular and associated standards;
 - recommend improvements in the arrangements; and
 - promote regional consistency across HSC Trusts.

A summary and analysis of the implementation of AYE regionally should be included in the HSCB annual DSF overview report detailing HSC Trusts compliance with the AYE Policy and recommendations for improvement and this report should be submitted to the Chief Social Work Officer in the DHSSPS by an agreed date.

Where appropriate the HSC Board in collaboration with the Trusts will agree action plans to improve and develop AYE arrangements.

NISCC Responsibilities

23. NISCC will wish to satisfy itself of the quality of NQSW evidence used by employers to assess successful completion of the AYE and to verify the suitability of the AYE registrant for registration status as a social worker without condition. This will be carried out by audit of a sample of AYE submissions.

Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority (RQIA) Responsibilities

24. RQIA will, as appropriate, monitor compliance with the employer responsibility for this function through inspection and service regulation.

DHSSPS Responsibilities

25. The DHSSPS will monitor compliance of the implementation of the AYE policy through professional scrutiny of the HSCB overview report and will, as appropriate, make recommendations to improve compliance and strengthen regional consistency. From time to time the DHSSPS will review this policy and Circular to ensure it remains relevant and fit for purpose.

NON COMPLETION

Extension of Registration

26. NISCC will need to be informed in good time of any request for extension of the initial registration "with condition" on the social work part of the register.
27. NISCC will consider any applications for an extension for those who have failed to complete for any reason. NQSWs who fail to complete will need to apply to NISCC for an extension of their current registration status. Any such application by a NQSW should be accompanied by the employer endorsement with a recommendation as to when the performance appraisal will be undertaken (and hence the likely proposed length of the period of extension).
28. Opportunities for further appraisal are subject to continuing registration with NISCC. NQSWs who, for exceptional reasons, are not available for final performance appraisal at the appropriate stage of their employment should be offered an alternative opportunity for appraisal by their employer, subject to continuing registration with NISCC.

NQSWs IN OTHER SECTORS

29. In order to support NQSWs in the Criminal Justice, Education and Voluntary sectors, employers in these sectors will need to ensure appropriate systems are in place to support AYE staff to comply with the NISCC registration requirements.

NQSWs FROM OUTSIDE NI

30. NQSWs who qualified outside Northern Ireland (NI) must meet NISCC requirements for registration including the AYE if employed and practising as social workers in any sector in Northern Ireland. Social workers from outside NI who have completed a sustained year in social work employment with professional supervision, which can be verified through a written employer reference, will not be subject to AYE conditions of registration.
